Why is investigating so important in your research?

How you ask plus where you look equals what you get